Application idea

MyRecipePal is a social media platform for food enthusiasts, where they have a space to share and discover a variety of recipes. Users can create an account, which allows them to post recipes with instructions and photos. They can also receive feedback through comments and likes, and explore recipes based on cuisine types and dietary needs. The platform caters to home cooks, food enthusiasts, and anyone eager to share family recipes or discover new ones.

Ethical issues identified

Plagiarism: We ensured that any plagiarised recipes will be taken down through Admin access.

User Privacy: We identified the importance of protecting user credentials; therefore, we have implemented password hashing in the database to prevent any unauthorised access.

Data Protection: To address data protection, we ensured that user data is handled ethically, and unnecessary data collection was avoided.

Inclusivity/Diversity: Through the understanding of cultural differences between users, we accommodated to them by making sure only respectful imagery can be used.

About Us

MyRecipePal started with a simple idea: to connect home cooks from around the world through stories, flavors, and a shared love for food. We believe recipes are more than instructions — they're family traditions, cultural memories, and love passed down in every bite.

Built by friends who love food, design, and storytelling, our mission is to make sharing recipes as joyful as cooking them.
